

You bake, we care

Better baking results, lower costs and smarter production. That is what we at Kaak Bakeware can help you with. We are a partner for industrial and traditional bakeries. For over a hundred years, we have been helping bakers perform better by providing more than just product carriers.

Cleaning and re-coating on time prevents dough residues and can save you a lot of money. Bakeware has come up with an innovative solution, whereby damaged and worn straps are automatically removed from production as a part of our repair or replacement programme. We call this the iBakeware system.

Customised maintenance can be applied by keeping track of how our 'smart' product carriers behave during production. You are thereby assured that cleaning and re-coating will be done at the right time. With iBakeware you no longer have to deal with dough residues in the pans, which also extends the lifespan of the coating.

iBakeware features

- Your product carriers are fitted with an ID tag
- Product carriers and ID tags are suitable for recoating
- Multiple product carriers can be used on multiple production lines in several factories
- We guarantee a high registration accuracy
- Easy installation (also retrofitted)
- The software is available on any device

iBakeware advantages

- A 20% improvement in coating usage efficiency
- 75% less investment required for purchasing spare straps while recoating
- Register the current lifespan of the coating and replace it before any problems arise
- When used in combination with a "bread in pan" sensor, you can select and replace product carriers at an individual level

iBakeware options

- Our hand scanner makes information directly available from a product carrier
- Link it with the iBakeCare system to create an overview of all available production data from a production line for further analyses

You bake, we care!

Developments in the bakery sector are continuing, and we are also adjusting our services accordingly. We will gladly accept your baking problems as our challenge! Bakeware represents quality, sustainability and doing everything possible to help you perform better. You bake, we care!

Our products and services help partners from Kaak Bakeware benefit from the best (baking) results, the latest innovations in the bakery sector and profitable production. We hope to welcome you as a partner soon!

